

Movie Night at Eden Drive-In

Across town, near the Spray traffic circle, you can pull into Circle Drive In. We suggest the chuck wagon sandwich, and don't forget the thick-cut, crinkle fries. Then there's Jerry's Restaurant, home of the too-good-to-miss broasted chicken sandwich. You'll find

Curb Service at Dick's Drive-In

Before there were drive-thru restaurants, there were drive-ins - places where service came to you, at the curbside. And food came on a tray, not in a bag.

In Eden, a town in the foothills of the upper Piedmont region of North Carolina, those places never went away - spots like Dick's Drive-In, where the hot dog buns are still steamed to perfection and the dogs are served Southern style, with heaps of slaw and chili.

Jerry's in the charming Draper Village. While you're in the drive-in spirit, take in a movie at the Eden Drive-In. Whether it's you and your sweetie or the whole family, it's the place where the stars aren't just on the big screen. They're overhead, too.

For more outdoor fun, drop by Tuttle's Farm, where a visit means hopping aboard a tractor-pulled cow train and bouncing over farm trails to the pumpkin patch, navigating a corn maze or picking your own strawberries.

Don't slip away without taking in the beauty of the rivers, the Smith and the Dan. The best view is from the waterway, so bring your kayak or canoe or rent one from a local outfitter. Landlubbers aren't excluded. Our Smith River Greenway is a 1.7 mile walking trail that offers riverside views and scenic overlooks.

No trip is complete without a little shopping. Walk the streets of our three downtowns, taking in the unique shops and the beautiful architecture. Learn a bit about our history at the Eden Historical Museum.

Whether it's eating under the stars or paddling the river by the light of a full moon, the great outdoors is an Eden specialty.

Land of Two Rivers

Local Wares:

MillerCoors

Yes, we really do have a brewery in our backyard. MillerCoors produces nine million barrels of beer annually at its Eden plant.

King's Chandelier

You'll find yourself looking up at King's where the ceiling is aglow with some of the finest crystal chandeliers in the nation. Not only do they showcase them, they also design and build them.

Pace-Stone/Karastan

Luxury Karastan rugs are produced locally in the mill owned by Mohawk Industries Inc., just a block from Pace-Stone Inc. For more than 80 years, Pace-Stone has sold fine rugs, carpets, furnishings and gifts from a storefront on Washington Street. The store has built a reputation for its fine hand-woven and machine-made rugs.

Telling Eden's Story:

Eden Historical Museum

656 Washington St.

Hours: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

(or by appointment for groups)

Admission: $1

A downtown storefront in the Olde Leaksville Shopping District is where the story of two rivers and the towns that grew up along them is preserved. From the Native Americans, who first made the area their home, to the manufacturing era that would come centuries later, Eden Historical Museum is a treasure trove of past people, places and eras.
